President and CEO, Black Women's Health Imperative

Dr. Jennifer Taylor-Cousar
Professor of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics, National Jewish Health

Research emerging from the pandemic has underscored healthcare inequities among racial and ethnic minorities. These populations are less likely to receive routine medical care and face higher rates of morbidity and mortality. Award-winning health leader Dr. Michele Wright will moderate this session featuring former Surgeon General Dr. Joycelyn Elders, Linda Goler Blount, and Dr. Jennifer Taylor-Cousar. They will discuss what is known about health care inequities and what is needed to create change. You are also invited to access a free viewing of the documentary 54 Years Late that profiles an African American man's trials in the healthcare system to be diagnosed with Cystic Fibrosis despite having classic signs.
